LOCATION OVERVIEW

LOCAL PROJECT: PARK AT PENN'S LANDING

Park at Penn's Landing - 11.5-acre public space that will reconnect Center City to the waterfront with a multi-use plaza arcing above the highway from Chestnut to Walnut streets. The $329 million project also includes a new, separate bridge that lets people walk or bike from South Street to the Delaware River Trail. Lots of green space, but also a stage for concerts, a play area, and multiple cafes. Renderings also show a "flex-use" plaza that could be used by food trucks, for movie nights, roller skating, festivals, farmer's markets and more. The city is also thinking about adding interactive art in and around the park. At the park's center will be a mass timber structure that's slated to be Philly's first net-zero carbon building (meaning construction and operations are carbon-neutral). It'll house the cafe and an open-air pavilion.
